FROM ALBANY.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Senate No Organization Since they may Organize—Evidence in Civil Cases—Mortgage Foreclosure—Fraudulent New Corporations—The Penitentiary Report—The Canals, &c.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

ALBANY, Thursday, Jan. 10, 1854.

Still no organization, and the prospect thereof apparently as remote as when the balloting first commenced. The last vote to-day stood Ostrom, 64; Pennington, 64; Bailey, 30; Morris, 6; Robinson, 2; Blanchard, 2.

Mr. VAN SCHOONHOVEN submitted a proposition that Mrs. Pierce, of Orleans, should be elected temporary Clerk of the House (sent to counsel to elect other officers), and that Speaker "Beetle was willing," but the House was unkind (the proposition was negatived, 97 to 4).

Mr. DARLING then introduced with a proposition to allow a penalty to elect. That went to the table, 97 to 4.

Mr. DARLING offered a resolution declaring Mr. Comptroller Bockes. That also was tabled, 98 to 4.

Mr. JOHNSON came in then with a proposition to declare Comm. Spalding, and Peter S. Narrow, Clerk. That will have to wait for the Hard shells, but they would not vote for Narrow. Several Democrats followed Van Schoonhoven, and Democrats and Democrats.

Between all these propositions and a Trinity of opposition Democrats (so-called), were had. Finally, after remaining to hold afternoon sessions, Senator Settle, the Senate adjourned.

WORK OF THE WEEK.

I understand that much of the session's labor will have been done, all of which were severally disposed of by the Senate, and sent to the House to stand up to their work, but if they don't, but they will have to do it. But they will have to do it. But they will have to do it. But
